A Wife from the Forbidden Land: (The Scene of This Story Is Laid in the Tibetan Capital During the Lifetime of the Predecessor of the Present Dalai Lama) (Paperback)

By Archer Philip Crouch

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .A WIFE FROM THE FORBIDDEN LAND by ARCHER PHILIP CROUCH The particular fascination of Mr. A. P. Crouch s new story is that the scene of its operations is placed in that weird, mysterious land, Tibet. A young Englishman of the self-reliant, strong, and adventurous type determines to visit Lhasa-the sacred Tibetan capital-a city which the foreigner is not allowed to explore upon pain of death. How the Englishman succeeds in his object, and how he brings back with him A Wife from the Forbidden Land, is the function of the story to tell. Mr. Crouch knows the peoples of the wonderful East like a native; and his book is not only an engrossing romance: it is a vivid presentment of the customs, institutions, and manners of a land which is as yet but little known to the European. -Publisher s Notice [1907] Now and again in these days of cheap psychology and novels of small incident, it is a pleasure to find a book like this-a book which is simply and avowedly a straightforward...
