Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Licorice Plant: Reports, From the Consuls of the United States, on the Licorice Plant, Licorice Manufacture, and Licorice Trade, in Answer to a Circular From the Department of State Sir: In view of the large import into the United States of licorice, in its various forms - the import of the root alone, in 1884, amounting to 39,057,000 pounds, valued at $800,000 - and believing that the plant can be grown in some portions of the United States, many parties interested herein have requested the Department to secure through its consuls resident in the licorice-producing districts, certain information, embraced in the following questions: 1. Does the plant grow wild, or is it cultivated? 2. What kind of soil and climate are best suited to its growth? 3. If cultivated, describe the mode and manner of its cultivation. 4. How long does it require to reach maturity? 5. Beyond the root is the plant or stalk utilized? In addition to the foregoing you are requested to supply as much information as possible concerning the plant; the manner in which the root is prepared for the market; whether it is subject to any adulteration in its preparation for the market; the amount exported from your district to the United States, where it is raised, prepared, and how it is shipped hither, c., in fine, everything which can be of service to parties engaged in the trade, or who contemplate the cultivation of the plant in the United States.
