Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Agitation of Slavery: Who Commenced, and Who Can End It!! Buchanan and Fillmore Compared From the Record He has an intense, often an hereditary contempt for the people. The Doughface has been a Federalist, a Whig, and a Know-Xothing never a Democrat. The Doughface has a high opinion of his own merits, and expects upon the success of bia northern allies at the very least to be called to the head of a department or a foreign mission. He would, perhaps, compromise for an anonymous interest in a lucrative contract It is he who prepares ambiguous declarations for northern candidates, which commit them to nothing in favor of the south, and do not impair their strength at the north. He tells you that, as some politicians never keep a pledge, it is wholly unnecessary to exact one from any. He will tell you that his confidential assurance of the intentions of his candidate is more worthy of credence than the recorded evidence of fidelity presented by his competitor. When General Taylor refused to say that he would veto a bill prohibiting the establishment of slavery in the federal Territories, thel defended him as perfectly sound, because General Taylor owned several cotton plantations. When Genera Jcott declined to express any opinion as to the power of Conj rer the subject of slavery, tl Doughfaces id it was pe fectlj tory, lucause that hero had been horn in Virginia, and was therefore incapable oi taking an erroneous view of her interests The Do.-iface now advises Mr Fillmore to 1. ice upon the trreat questions of the day.!! see ires you that. Mr. Fillmore is perfectly...
