Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Annual Address Before the Euphradian and Clariosophic Societies of the South Carolina College: December 1853 [This Address was intended to be a spoken exhortation to the young men of the South Carolina College - nothing more. It was prepared exclusively for the rostrum - leaving much to be added or omitted in the delivery, as the suggestions of the moment might dictate. As there was no purpose of literary display, no care was taken to give it any pretension to mere literary merit. It may be said, under these circumstances, it ought not to be printed. I think so; but the young gentlemen demand a different course - and it is theirs. I have neither the time, nor, indeed, the nerve to revert to it for revision. Having no literary reputation to maintain, nor the hope of achieving one, I let the Address go, claiming charity for it on the plea of a worthy purpose - that of suggesting to my young countrymen a sure way to the highest Truth; for the liberty they live under is neither more nor less than the philosophy of Christian Truth, applied to the institutions of their country.] Gentlemen of the Euphradian and Clariosophic Societies: There be not one of you who doth not remember the magnificent words of Milton in his great essay on the freedom of the press - Me- thinks I see in my mind a noble and puissant nation rousing herself like a strong man after sleep and shaking her invincible locks. Methinks I see her as an eagle mewing her mighty youth, and kindling her undaz- zled eyes at the full mid-day beam, purging...
