If we put a cathode metal in acid solution it will be dissolved and plated back again. You will have an equilibrium effect and cannot help it. W. D. Bancroft: Mr. Patten has assumed that because I am at a university I am a free agent and can work at anything I like. I cannot. I have got to get the students interested in their work, and for years I have been trying to get somebody to take up this problem of the action of nitric acid on different metals, to solve the question why you get nitrogen, nitrous oxide, nitric oxide, hydroxylamine and ammonia in the relative proportions obtained. Mr. Pattens ammonia problem is one special branch of that. There is...
